

BEIJING ALL-ONE INTERNET TECHNOLOGY CO.,LTD. 北京亿品众合互联网科技有限公司

Beijing All-one Internet Technology Co., Ltd. was officially launched in August 2018, and was founded by Mr. Chen Weizhong, a veteran of film and television. As an emerging technology company with Internet plus film, culture and entertainment, All-one has integrated its own resources for many years in terms of subverting the traditional business model in the industry, breaking the ceiling in the industry, solving the pain points of small and medium-sized film and television enterprises at home and abroad, and striving to build a resource-sharing service platform for film and television people. Because of its pioneering development concept and strategic layout for the film and television industry, All-one soon attracted many attention within the industry and outside.

On December 20, 2018, All-one was listed on the “New Fourth Board” at the Beijing Equity Exchange Center. On the same day, All-one signed strategic cooperation agreements with a number of enterprises and organizations outside the industry, and strengthened the alliance. Using Internet Plus and big data technologies to promote the innovation and transformation of China's film and television industry from various aspects, as well as to optimize resource allocation, and build a film industry credit system. Meanwhile, we upgraded the industry model to help domestic and foreign film and television companies to survive the industry winter.

All-one is preparing to make Wuhu City the first city of Chinese film, covering all aspects of film and television industry such as film and television production, film and television copyright, film and television announcement, film and television investment, film and television advertisement, film derivatives, etc., giving Wuhu a new development orientation. Open up new concepts and new fields in terms of “Culture + Tourism”, “Culture + Technology”, “Culture + Environmental Protection”, and create a new business card for Wuhu which contains “Cultural Light Assets, Science and Technology, Green and Environmental Protection”.

Through the cooperation of online tools and the offline professional team, All-one has carried out global strategic layout and is committed to creating copyright cooperation in film and television copyright transactions, film and television announcements, film and television advertisements, film and television financing, operation services and overseas film and television projects. The integrated business model exerts the greatest strength for the development of the film and television industry.
